BRIEF ABSTRACT OF LETTER.

States that the donor Thayamma is reported to have died on 9-1-23 and requests to be instructed as to whom the interest on the endowt should be paid hereafter, as messrs L. Srinivasa-Iyengar & L. S. Raju, Advocates, have objected to the payt of the interest, as ~~was~~ hitherto, to Veeraraghavalu chetty, her brother.

Rules - In para 4 of the order it is stated that there was no necessity, then to pass orders on the basis of expenditure to be adopted or on the supervision of charities as the donor understood to exist; the proper conduct of the charities.

In para 5 of the order, it has been directed that the interest may be paid to the donor's brother Veeraghavalu Chetty, who has been nominated as the manager of the charities.

3. Messrs L Srinivasiengar & L.S Raju, Advocates, having intimated the Compte that Thayamma died on 9-1-23 and that no interest on the endowt should be paid to Veeraghavalu chetty as a suit was pending in the Court of the Dist Judge re the estate of the late Bhupalam Subbaraya Setty, the Compte has returned unaudited the bill for Rs 500/- sent by Mr Veeraghavalu Chetty for the half-yearly interest on the endowt for 6 months ending 31-12-22 and solicits the decision of Govt in the matter?

and decision in the case appear to be (1) what bearing has the suit on the endowment made by Jayamma (2) whether payment of interest to Veeraraghavalu chetty, brother of the deceased Jayamma, ~~should be~~ be continued should be stopped for the present on that ground.

5 Rule 1st of the Charitable Endowt. Rules. clearly lays down (1) that the whole or any portion of the deposit amount should not be demanded at any time (2) that the interest payable by Govt. on the amount should not be used for any other purpose than the one agreed to & (3) that a true & correct account of the expenditure should be kept.

6 So, the pending suit appears to have nothing to do with the endowt.

7. As Jayamma undertook to arrange for the proper conduct of the charities and desired that the half-yearly interest may be paid to her brother Veeraghavalu chetty, who had been nominated as the manager of the charities, the point for consideration now is whether the interest may be continued to be paid to Veeraghavalu Chetty as manager through his sister the donor is dead or it may be stopped pending enquiry into the matter as to whether the donor has left any will for the future management of the charities. If none, then Govt. may, at its discretion, call for a scheme of management, with Veeraghavalu Chetty, still as manager.

8. There appears to be no reason to stop payment of interest on account of the pending suit, but on account of the donor's death & efficient management of the charities.
